Berks County Courthouse & Services Center

633 Court St., Reading, PA 19601

<http://www.co.berks.pa.us/Dept/MHDD/Pages/default.aspx>

Established by the MH/MR Act of 1966, the Berks County Mental Health/Developmental Disabilities Program is regulated by the Pennsylvania Department of Human Services through the Offices of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services. It is funded by the Federal, State and Local government. Through its contracted provider network, it administers a broad array of services for individuals who are in need of mental health and/or developmental disability services. The array of services include evaluations, treatment such as outpatient and partial hospitalization services, residential and housing supports, rehabilitation services, employment training, consultation, outreach, and aftercare services. Berks County MH/DD is also responsible for providing emergency services on a twenty-four hour basis to individuals experiencing acute mental health distress. The Berks County MH/DD program is responsible for gathering data pertaining to community needs, providing such data to the Department of Human Services, and utilizing the data, along with other information such as community input, to develop Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities Plans on an annual basis.

Education

Basic Skills

Basic reading, writing, mathematics and English language instruction are provided by the following organizations:

Literacy Council of Reading-Berks, Inc.

(610) 670-9960 (Hours: Monday-Friday 8AM-4PM)

35 S Dwight St., West Lawn, PA 19609

www.lcrb.org

Offers classes at multiple locations across Berks County for basic reading and writing, GED preparation, English as a second language, and citizenship.

High School Equivalency Diploma (GED)

The GED is awarded to an individual who has passed a high school equivalency examination. GED tests are designed to measure knowledge and skills, typically learned during high school, that a person may have obtained in a different manner. There is an examination fee which must be paid each time the test or part of the test is taken. This fee must be paid at registration.

Classes are available to prepare an individual to take the high school equivalency examination. Classes are administered by Reading Area Community College (RACC). Contact RACC, Continuing Education Department at (610) 607-6227 for further information.

Education

Post Secondary (High School) Education

There are several types of education available beyond high school, including two and four year colleges, vocational-technical training and non-degree continuing education programs.

Support Services: Students who have not attended a post-secondary institution or whose education has been interrupted because of physical/emotional problems, may feel reluctant to return to school. Many of these institutions have free counseling departments to assist enrolled students in overcoming barriers to continued education.

Financial Assistance for Post Secondary Education: There are many sources available for students to obtain monies to finance education/training beyond high school. These sources include state and federal programs, educational institutions and private organizations.

Financial & Medical Assistance

Coverage: Medicare has two types of coverage: medical insurance (Part B); and hospital insurance (Part A).

Medical insurance helps pay:

- Physician services
- Outpatient hospital care
- Outpatient physical therapy
- Speech pathology services
- Home health care
- Many other health services and supplies which are not covered by Medicare hospital insurance

Medicare pays 80% of approved charges after you pay a deductible.

Hospital Insurance helps pay:

- Inpatient hospital care
- Post-hospital skilled nursing facility care
- Home health care
- Hospice care

There is a deductible for inpatient hospital care for each benefit period (60 days). NOTE: Medicare hospital insurance can help for no more than 190 days of care in a participating psychiatric hospital in your lifetime. There is also a "special rule" that applies if you are in a participating psychiatric hospital at the time your hospital insurance starts. For more information about this special rule, contact the Social Security Administration at (800) 772-1213 or TDD only (800) 325-0778.

Financial & Medical Assistance

Benefits Begin: An individual must wait five (5) full months after the onset of the disability before receiving SSDI benefits. The application for benefits can be made sooner.

Work Incentive Available While on SSDI: Individuals on SSDI can return to work and retain their benefits through the proper use of the Work Incentive Provisions of the Social Security Act. These include:

- Trial work periods
- Impairment-related work expenses
- Extended period of eligibility
- Continuation of Medicare coverage
- Medicare for People with Disabilities Who Work

Medicare

Medicare is a federal insurance program designed to provide health care benefits for persons over the age of 65 and certain disabled persons who could not otherwise pay for benefits. Medicare assists in paying hospital and medical bills for participants.

Eligibility: Those eligible include:

- Individuals over the age of 65 regardless of income;
- Disabled persons under 65 who have been entitled to SSDI for at least two years
- Certain other persons with permanent kidney failure

Employment

The types of services provided by the organizations listed in this section fall into two categories: 1) those providing job coaching, job preparation skills and personal, work and adjustment training and 2) those providing sheltered employment, supported employment and supportive employment.

Below you will find a brief definition of each of these services:

Job Coaching - The use of a job coach or on-site trainer to provide training, support and follow-up services.

Job Preparation Skills - Training or assistance in preparing resumes and cover letters, job interviewing skills, job-seeking skills, etc.

Personal, Work and Adjustment Training - A training period to acquire and/or improve work-related skills in preparation for competitive employment.

Sheltered Employment - Employment in a sheltered workshop setting, which is noncompetitive by nature. Often, the pay received is less than the legal minimum wage.

Supported Employment - Use of a job coach to provide long-term training and follow-up services in an employment setting.

Supportive Employment - Use of a job coach to provide short term training and follow up services in an employment setting.
