INDEPENDENT LIVING & CONTINUING CARE RETIREMENT COMMUNITY GUIDE

A Continuing Care Retirement Community (CCRC) is a particular type of retirement community that offers several levels of health care on one campus:

- Independent Living for people who don't need personal assistance
- Personal Care (or Assisted Living) for people who require a little help with the activities of daily living
- Secured/Dementia Care (also known as Memory Care )
- Skilled Nursing and Rehabilitation, both short & long term, in an on-campus Health Care Center

These communities offer the older adult the opportunity to stay in one location, accommodating their changing needs, throughout the duration of their life.
